Gen. Stotesbury Wants to Confine Bouts to Members of Regiments.

NO OFFICIAL ACTION YET

ALBANY, Jan. 5 .- There will be no pubhonest. In case of a knockdown, Gibson wants the extra time keeper to hold a split second watch, which can be started the instant one of the boxers goes to the mat. Then according to the volatile Gibson, the improvised time keeper can step gally to the front and count off the seconds in clear and ductet tomes meanwhile waving his arm with each move of the second hands.

In this way, Bill Brown, who has lie boxing bouts in the Twenty-second Johnnie Dundes had a workout yes-terday afternoon for his fight with Freddie Welsh. The Scotch-Italian went Senator Wadsworth, the latter indorsing

Freddle Weish. The Scotch-Italian went through the motions of a battle at the West Side A. C. and Scotty Montletn pronounced him fit to enter the contest against the lightweight champion of the world. Welsh is doing a lot of roadwork, which he contends is all that he needs in order to defeat Dundee. Gen. Stotesbury investigated and found no public boxing matches had been scheduled for the Twenty-second Regi-ment Armory. The regiment had se-cured from the State a license for boxcured from the State a license for box-ing matches, but they were to be inter-company affairs. Gen, Stotesbury finally announced that he would not forbid pub-lic bouts for paid admissions, but he had confidence in those in charge of the

GEN. MOTORS DIVIDEND GROWS.

Cent. Basis a Year.

The common stock of the General Motors Company was placed on a 20 per cent. per annum basis yesterday by the declaring of an initial quarterly dividend by the directors of 5 per cent. In placing the stock on a 20 per cent. per annum basis the directors declared two $5 per share dividends, one for the quarter ended November 1, 1915, and fee other for the quarter ending February 1, 1916, making a total of $10 per share. On October 15, 1915, a cash dividend of 50 per cent. was declared on the common stock, entailing the disbursement of some $8,250,000.

The following official statement was issued by the directors after the dividend
